

To Wander and Return: Zechariah

DATE: June 12, 2019

SPEAKER: Ben Fuqua

Use the following as a starting point for conversation:

1. Read Zechariah 7 aloud. Consider watching the following video for a helpful overview of the book of Zechariah: <https://youtu.be/106lfO6Kc0>
2. What Christian rituals do you find yourself doing out of habit or to impress others or be seen? (Examples: fasting, prayer, quiet times, going to church, communion, serving, worship in song, etc.) What are the reasons we should be doing these things?
3. When you realize your motives are wrong in any of those areas, what should you do? What truth do you need to remember to reengage your heart in your worship and show that you genuinely love God?
4. Think about the ways you love others. Is it active? Tangible? Sacrificial? Lazy? Selfish? Are you better at loving the people who are easy to love? How much effort do you put into loving the people it's harder for you to love? What specific changes do you want to commit to making in the ways you seek to love others genuinely?
5. Think of someone in your life who doesn't know Jesus. What is there about your words and actions that might attract them to Jesus? How can you seek to do that more and start conversations with them about Him?
